

I urge you not to allow the rampant destruction of the last remaining rules governing ownership of radio and television, specifically the elimination of the rule prohibiting a company from owning a newspaper and radio and television stations in the same market. When the public can only get its information through huge media conglomerates, we all suffer. I respectfully ask that you please keep those ownership prohibitions in place.